Attorney General Ashley Moody News Release

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Attorney General Ashley Moody’s Medicaid Fraud Control Unit, with the assistance of the Jacksonville Sheriff’s Office, today announced the arrest of a former mental health technician for abusing a disabled adult. Shauneey Rashaun Wilson allegedly physically abused and caused injury to a disabled adult while under Wilson’s care and supervision as an inpatient resident at Wekiva Springs Hospital.

Attorney General Ashley Moody said, “The violent behavior exhibited by this health care professional is extremely disturbing. My Medicaid Fraud Control Unit will hold this defendant accountable for his crimes against a defenseless patient entrusted to his care.”

According to the investigation, Wilson worked as a mental health technician for Wekiva Springs, a licensed hospital that provides behavioral health and substance use treatment to adults and senior adults. On Nov. 30, 2020, Wilson allegedly tackled a disabled adult into the patient’s room and onto the floor. The following morning, during another confrontation, Wilson struck the same disabled adult in the head several times using a fist. A nurse heard screaming and then witnessed Wilson exiting the disabled adult’s room, observing Wilson’s clenched fists and swollen knuckles. The nurse found the disabled adult moaning in pain and observed blood inside the room. An ambulance transported the disabled adult to a general hospital to be treated for an abrasion and contusion to the forehead. Further investigation revealed that Wekiva Springs’ surveillance systems captured both incidents on camera. Wekiva Springs subsequently terminated Wilson for the abusive actions.

Wilson is charged with two counts of abuse of a disabled adult, a third-degree felony punishable by up to five years in prison. The Attorney General's MFCU will prosecute the case through an agreement with the State Attorney's Office for the Fourth Judicial Circuit.
